

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF ARKANSAS
FAYETTEVILLE DIVISION

DONALD SHACKLEFORD

v.

CIVIL NO. 04-5278

JO ANNE B. BARNHART, Commissioner
Social Security Administration

DEFENDANT

MAGISTRATE JUDGE'S REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Plaintiff Donald Shackleford appealed the Commissioner's denial of benefits to this court. On March 1, 2006, judgment was entered remanding plaintiff's case to the Commissioner pursuant to sentence four of 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). (Doc. # 10). Plaintiff now moves for an award of $4,877.60 in attorney's fees and costs under 28 U.S.C. § 2412, the Equal Access to Justice Act (hereinafter "EAJA"), requesting compensation for 30.08 attorney hours of work before the court at an hourly rate of $160.00, 1.00 non-legal hour at an hourly rate of $38.40, and $26.40 in expenses. (Doc. # 11-12). Defendant has filed a response, objecting to the hourly rate requested and to certain hours claimed. (Doc. # 13).

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(A), the court must award attorney's fees to a prevailing social security claimant unless the Commissioner's position in denying benefits was substantially justified. The burden is on the Commissioner to show substantial justification for the government's denial of benefits. Jackson v. Bowen, 807 F.2d 127, 128 (8th Cir. 1986). Under Shalala v. Schaefer, 509 U.S. 292, 302 (1993), a social security claimant who obtains a sentence-four judgment reversing the Commissioner's denial of benefits and remanding the case for further proceedings is a prevailing party. After reviewing the file, we find plaintiff is a prevailing party in this matter.

An award of attorney's fees under the EAJA is appropriate even though at the conclusion of the case, plaintiff's attorney may be authorized to charge and collect a fee pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1). Recovery of attorney's fees under both the EAJA and 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1) was specifically allowed when Congress amended the EAJA in 1985. Gisbrecht v. Barnhart, 535 U.S. 789, 796, 122 S.Ct. 1817, 1822, 152 L.Ed.2d 996 (2002), citing Pub.L. 99-80, § 3, 99 Stat. 186 (1985).

To permit a fee award under the EAJA, assuming, of course, that the necessary standard is met, in addition to that allowed by the district court out of a claimant's past-due benefits does no more than reimburse the claimant for his or her expenses and results in no windfall for the attorney.

Meyers v. Heckler, 625 F.Supp. 228, 231 (S.D.Ohio 1985). Furthermore, awarding fees under both acts facilitates the purposes of the EAJA, which is to shift to the United States the prevailing party's litigation expenses incurred while contesting unreasonable government action. Id. See also, Cornella v. Schweiker, 728 F.2d 978 (8th Cir.1984).

In determining a reasonable attorney's fee, the court will in each case consider the following factors: time and labor required; the difficulty of questions involved; the skill required to handle the problems presented; the attorney's experience, ability, and reputation; the benefits resulting to the client from the services; the customary fee for similar services; the contingency or certainty of compensation; the results obtained; and the amount involved. Allen v. Heckler, 588 F.Supp. 1247 (W.D.N.Y. 1984).

However, the EAJA is not designed to reimburse without limit. Pierce v. Underwood, 487 U.S. 552, 573 (1988). The district court is "in the best position to evaluate counsel's services and fee request, particularly when the court has had the opportunity to observe firsthand counsel's representation on the substantive aspects of the disability claim." Hickey v. Secretary of HHS, 923 F.2d 585, 586 (8th Cir.1991), quoting Cotter v. Bowen, 879 F.2d 359, 361 (8th Cir.1989). The court can determine the reasonableness and accuracy of a fee request, even in the absence of an objection by the Commissioner. See Decker v. Sullivan, 976 F.2d 456, 459 (8th Cir.1992) ("Although the issue was not raised on appeal, fairness to the parties requires an accurately calculated attorney's fee award.").

The Contract with America Advancement Act of 1996, passed on March 29, 1996, amended the EAJA and increased the statutory ceiling for EAJA fee awards from $75.00 to $125.00 per hour. See 28 U.S.C. § 2 412(d)(2)(A).

The EAJA further requires an attorney seeking fees to submit "an itemized statement...stating the actual time expended and the rate at which fees and other expenses were computed." 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(B). Attorneys seeking fees under federal fee-shifting statutes such as the EAJA are required to present fee applications with "contemporaneous time records of hours worked and rates claimed, plus a detailed description of the subject matter of the work." Id. Where documentation is inadequate, the court may reduce the award accordingly. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 433 (1983).

Plaintiff's attorney requests an award under the EAJA at $160.00 per hour, for the 30.08 hours which she asserts she devoted to the representation of plaintiff in this court. The party seeking attorney fees bears the burden of proving that the claimed fees are reasonable. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. at 437.

Attorney's fees may not be awarded in excess of $125.00 per hour - the maximum statutory rate under § 2412(d)(2)(A) - unless the court finds that an increase in the cost of living or a special factor such as the limited availability of qualified attorneys justifies a higher fee. 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(2)(A). The decision to increase the hourly rate is not automatic and remains at the discretion of the district court. McNulty v. Sullivan, 886 F.2d 1074 (8th Cir. 1989). In Johnson v. Sullivan, 919 F.2d 503 (8th Cir. 1990), the court stated that the hourly rate may be increased when there is "uncontested proof of an increase in the cost of living sufficient to justify hourly attorney's fees of more than $75.00 an hour," such as a copy of the Consumer Price Index. Plaintiff's counsel has attached a summary of the Consumer Price Index as an exhibit (Doc. # 11) and has presented evidence of an increase in the cost of living. Therefore, the undersigned believes her argument for enhanced fees based on a cost of living increase has merit.

The Commissioner has raised an objection to the hourly rate requested. We agree that the requested hourly rate is excessive and find that an award based upon an hourly rate of $148.00 per hour, reflecting an increase in the cost of living, will result in consistent hourly fee awards in cases in Arkansas. See Johnson v. Sullivan, 919 F.2d 503, 505 (8th Cir. 1990). Thus, based upon the above factors, we find that an appropriate hourly rate for the award of attorney's fees in this case is $148.00 per hour.

We next address the number of hours plaintiff's counsel claims she spent working on this case. Plaintiff's counsel seeks 0.50 non-legal hour on November 15, 2004 (non-lawyer function; take pleadings to court and file IFP documents), from which we deduct 0.50 hour; 0.25 hour on November 16, 2004 (post all filing dates to calendars), from which we deduct 0.25 hour; 1.00 hour on November 22, 2004, (send defendant required letters to all governmental agencies as required to calendars, send all letters certified prepare PS form 3800 cost of service $16.95), from which we deduct 1.00 hour; 0.25 hour on December 1, 2004 (receive and post PS form 3188), from which we deduct 0.25 hour; 0.25 hour on December 6, 2004 (receive and post PS form 3811), from which we deduct 0.25 hour; 0.25 hour on December 7, 2004 (receive and post PS form 3811), from which we deduct 0.25 hour; and 0.50 hour on August 9, 2005 (file brief with Federal Clerk non-lawyer work), from which we deduct 0.50 hour. This time cannot be compensated under the EAJA. Granville House, Inc. v. Department of HEW, 813 F.2d 881, 884 (8th Cir.1987). Accordingly, we deduct 2.00 attorney hours and 1.00 non-lawyer hour from the total number of compensable hours sought.

Plaintiff's counsel seeks 0.25 hour on November 16, 2004 (receive and review Order from magistrate allowing IFP); and 0.25 hour on February 7, 2005 (receive letter from Magistrate and post order). This court concludes that the time submitted on the above referenced dates, should not have taken an attorney experienced in handling social security cases more than five or six minutes to review these documents. Bowman v. Secretary of H.H.S., 744 F.Supp 898 (E.D.Ark. 1989). Therefore we are reducing the 0.25 hour submitted on the above dates to 0.10 hour. Accordingly, 0.30 hour must be deducted from the total compensable time sought by counsel.

Plaintiff's counsel seeks a total of 8.75 hours from March 29, 2006, through April 7, 2006, for the research and preparation of the EAJA petition and brief. It appears plaintiff's counsel also contacted another attorney for a matter and then received and reviewed a copy of a brief on March 29, 2006. The judgment in this case was entered on March 1, 2006. While it appears plaintiff's counsel did some extra research with regard to the EAJA petition, we find that submitted 8.75 hours to be excessive and reduce this time by 5.75 hours.

Plaintiff's counsel seeks 0.25 hour on February 23, 2006 (notify OHA and SSA DO of client's new address), from which we deduct 0.25 hour. Work performed at the administrative is not compensable under the EAJA. See Cornella v. Schweiker, 728 F.2d 978, 988-89 (8th Cir. 1984) (time spent at the administrative level is not compensable under the EAJA). Accordingly, 0.25 hour must be deducted from the total compensable time sought by counsel.

Plaintiff's counsel seeks a total of 14.00 hours for reviewing the transcript, researching and writing plaintiff's appeal brief. Plaintiff's counsel frequently represents social security plaintiff's before this court and should be well versed in social security law and we find that the time submitted for preparing this brief to be excessive. There were also no unique or complex issues to be developed in this particular case. Therefore we are reducing the number of hours submitted for the preparation of plaintiff's brief to 12.00 hours.

Finally, counsel seeks reimbursement for $26.40 in expenses incurred with regard to postage and photocopying. Such expenses are recoverable under the EAJA and we find $26.40 to be a reasonable award. See Kelly v. Bowen, 862 F.2d 1333, 1335 (8th Cir. 1988).

Based on the above, we recommend awarding plaintiff's attorney fees under the EAJA for: 19.78 (30.08- 10.30) attorney hours, at the rate of $148.00 per hour, and $26.40 in expenses, for a total attorney's fee award of $2,953.84. This amount should be paid in addition to, and not out of, any past due benefits which plaintiff may be awarded in the future. The parties have ten days from receipt of our report and recommendation in which to file written objections pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). The failure to file timely objections may result in waiver of the right to appeal questions of fact. The parties are reminded that objections must be both timely and specific to trigger de novo review by the district court.

The parties are reminded that the award herein under the EAJA will be taken into account at such time as a reasonable fee is determined pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406, in order to prevent double recovery by counsel for the plaintiff.

Dated this 30th day of May 2006.
